

SOMETHING IS DOING EVERY MINUTE OF "HELLO BILL" CONCLAVE

The Glendale Elks' drill team competing for national honors yesterday afternoon at Exposition Park, against eighteen crack drill teams from every section of the country, failed to qualify for the final rounds of elimination but put up a brand of fancy marching under Capt. W. C. Wattles that brought cheers of commendation from thousands who gathered to see the "Bills" go through their paces.

This afternoon will see the finals of the drill with teams from Detroit, Jackson, Philadelphia, Salt Lake City, Phoenix and San Francisco still in the running. According to the wise ones Jackson, winner of the competition last year, and Philadelphia, with its famous mounted patrol, look like the best bets for the coveted trophy. Exposition Park will be the scene of another barbecue at noon.

Inglewood will play host to the visiting delegates today and has lined up a variety of sports, entertainments and automobile rides that is sure to attract a big crowd. Hamburger's Store at Eighth and Broadway in Los Angeles will provide an entertainment at three o'clock while the much heralded vaudeville troupe from Minneapolis Lodge No. 44 guarantees a "laugh a minute" performance this evening at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

PREPARING FOR SAN FERNANDO VALLEY FAIR TO BE HELD IN SEPTEMBER

Representatives from various cities throughout the San Fernando valley appeared before the county board of supervisors recently and presented a formal request that financial assistance be rendered them from county funds to carry on the work of establishing the San Fernando Fair and Market to be held from September 13 to 15. A. G. Bartlett and L. T. Rowley, of the local chamber of commerce, served as the committee representing Glendale.

According to Mr. Rowley the county supervisors have been asked to contribute $15,000 toward the support of the fair and it is proposed, he said, to ask a similar amount from the state. These applications have been endorsed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. In view of the current project to make the San Fernando Fair and Market an annual event that will include the entire southern section of the state the financial support that is being asked is not deemed excessive.

Every effort will be made to conserve funds and disburse them judiciously by the committees in charge of the fair. It is said that the carnival project recently held in Burbank suffered a loss of approximately $22,000.

BATHING SUITS MUST NOT BE WORN ON THE STREETS

Brookside Park swimming pool in Pasadena will in future be reserved only for bathers and not as an alibi for aspiring bathing beauties and parade devotees as a result of an edict issued yesterday by City Manager C. W. Koerner, of the Crown City, who has ruled that bathing suits shall in future be confined to the plunge enclosure and will not be permitted to be worn throughout the park and along neighboring streets.

According to Jacob Albrecht, superintendent of parks in Pasadena, many girls have been using the entire park and adjacent streets for displaying their bathing suits who never went near the water. Complaint has been made frequently by patrons of the park, it is said.

Summer Resort

Glendale as a summer resort? Sure. "Beautiful shade, clear running water with wading, bathing and fishing, cool, healthful tents on the very banks of the river under the waving branches of the trees." No prospectus to this effect has been issued, but the statements within quotation marks are facts. One can see from the Pacific Electric trestle or the highway bridge, tents under the trees on the very brink of the river with children wading and bathing in the running water. In the background on the high hills of Griffith Park and the Silver Lake region. These tents are occupied by temporary squatters and as they are in the very bed of the Los Angeles river, no ground rent is paid. Think of the possibilities here for a genuine summer resort with all the attractions of the old stand-bys!

SCHOOL TRUSTEES OF CITY TO ORGANIZE TOMORROW

For the purpose of organizing and electing a president and clerk, the trustees of the city schools will meet tomorrow night at the Intermediate School for the first time since they took office under the provisions outlined in the city charter.

No intimation has been given out as to the probable president of the board for the coming year to be elected from the members, Eva C. Barton, David Black, Nettie C. Brown, David J. Hibben and Presley O. Lucas. Mr. Hibben formerly served as president and Mrs. Brown as clerk.

In addition to organizing themselves for the transaction of business the board will elect a superintendent of schools, an office staff and will select janitors for the coming school year. Salaries for these officials will be fixed at the same time.

Plans will be outlined at the meeting in regard to holding a conference with members of the school advisory committee with reference to a bond election for funds to be used in making additions to school buildings. The advisory committee is composed of the presidents of the various parent-teachers associations and one representative from each section of the city.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, is at present visiting in Chicago having left Des Moines, Iowa, where he was attending the National Educational Association convention as the representative of the Glendale Teacher's Club.

Harding and Sims Invited

BOSTON, July 13.—An invitation was extended to Admiral William S. Sims by the United Society of Christian Endeavor to speak at the sixth World's Christian Endeavor Convention in New York, July 8. William J. Bryan and President Harding have also been invited to the convention.

Drunkenness Defined

(By International News Service)
LONDON, July 13.—Five stages of intoxication have been defined at the Southwestern Police Court by Dr. Welch, of Knight's Hill Lodge, Northwood.

He was giving evidence in a case in which a taxicab driver was charged with being drunk and said the man was in "the third stage" of intoxication.

The five stages, as defined by the doctor are:

- 1—General contentment of well-being and happiness.
- 2—Flushing of the cheeks, a bright eye, and hilarity.
- 3—Inability to exercise the muscles as the brain directs.
- 4—Drunk and incapable.
- 5—Coma.

In the present case Dr. Welch explained the prisoner had "lost the power of co-ordination in muscular movement," but was able to walk if he "pulled himself together."

The prisoner, who was found lying beneath his cab on the footway at Northwood the result of an accident, he said, insisted he was sober and was discharged.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS AND CITY COUNCILMEN VISIT GLENDALÉ AVENUE RESERVOIR

Statistics Concerning This Big Job Given by City Engineer
Lynch and City Manager Watson—Discover Spring
Which May Be Permanent and Add to Supply

Under the leadership of City Manager Watson, City Engineer Hill and Consulting Engineer Harry Lynch, a very interesting group of members of the City Council and of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday afternoon visited the new city reservoir on North Glendale avenue, climbing to its rim and looking into its basin empty of water except a little at one end.

It is a huge proposition covering about 2½ acres and looks big enough to irrigate a county. As a matter of fact it will hold seven and a half million gallons of water and were all other sources cut off would keep Glendale in water for only about 35 hours. It is supplied from two sources, from the Verdugo Canyon springs which are brought in over the top, by gravity flow, and from the wells on San Fernando pumped in.

The heavy cement lining is completed except in the northwest corner and that will soon be laid on the steeply sloping side which runs a length of about 45 feet before it strikes the bed of the reservoir. This cement is backed by heavy steel mesh to reinforce it and protect against breakage, and is in huge blocks which will be jointed with a special preparation of asphaltum that will allow for expansion and contraction. A forest of redwood timbers set in cement has been placed in part and these will support the roof.

Mr. Ferry, who was of the party explained that 6400 sacks of cement had been required to make the lining.

It was a surprise to many in the group to learn that this reservoir is high enough to serve water to Kenneth Road and that it is but one of three of like capacity planned for the city's system. The site of the second has already been secured and a small reservoir to meet immediate needs has been built upon it with room left for the big reservoir when the time is ripe for its construction. This is what is known as the Vine street site in the Grand View district. The third site, somewhere in the Verdugo or Scholl Canyon district, is yet to be purchased.

When this Glendale avenue reservoir comes into commission it will protect the city against any possible water famine, and it will increase the pressure in all parts of the city where the pipes are new enough to withstand additional pressure. In some parts of the city that have been long settled they are too rotten to stand any greater force than that to which they are now being subjected.

Another interesting fact of which Mr. Watson made mention was the necessity the engineers found of making a drain beneath the reservoir to carry off the waters of a spring discovered which threatened to bring pressure enough to break through the cement. Whether it is a living spring that will continue to flow throughout the season remains to be determined. Should such prove to be the case the water will be collected and pumped over the top into the reservoir and thus make an additional water asset.

The site of this reservoir was purchased from Judge Ross, who sold reluctantly, but was persuaded it was his civic duty because of the city's need.

MANY IDEAS EVOLVED BY ACTIVE CITIZENS AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND CITY COUNCIL DINNER

Members of Women's Advisory Committee Were Introduced to the Representatives of Glendale's Two Civic Bodies—Units for Business District Needed

When members of the city council and of the chamber of commerce returned from a tour of inspection of the new city reservoir on Glendale avenue, to the White Inn, they found other members awaiting them there, and were presently ushered to the long, flower-decked table reserved for the party. At one end was President Cooper of the chamber of commerce, who acted as host. At his right hand was Mayor Spencer Robinson, who heads the new city council, the special guests of the evening. At the left of the President was Secretary Rhoades, whose thought it was to bring together representatives of these two civic bodies in friendly conference and also to introduce the members of the women's advisory committee he has just appointed, viz., Mrs. Ella Richardson, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, Mrs. Mabel Tight, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. Margaret Biggs and Dr. Caroline Jackman. These ladies were all placed at one side of the table with members of the city council sandwiched between them, places being laid for Councilmen Charles E. Kimlin, S. A. Davis, Dwight Stephenson and A. H. Lapham; City Attorney Hartley Shaw, City Manager T. W. Watson, Judge Fran H. Lowe, Jesse E. Smith, vice-president of the chamber of commerce; and Directors Owen Emery, Peter L. Ferry, David L. Gregg, Jas. G. Huntley, C. D. Lusby, J. A. Newton, and Mr. Person, a member of the chamber.

After the very excellent dinner of several courses had been enjoyed, President Cooper silenced the chat by a call to order and asked Secretary Rhoades to explain the purpose of the function with which the directors had sought to honor the members of the city council.

Secretary Rhoades

This Mr. Rhoades did, explaining that it had no political significance but was intended merely to assure members of the council of the chamber's desire to cooperate and support them in their work for the city. He also quoted an account of the creation, which stated that God took the brains and backbone from man and made woman. He said the chamber had discovered it needed brains and backbone and he had therefore taken the liberty of appointing an advisory committee of women to assist in promoting the work of the chamber.

He also mentioned the hope that the new building to be constructed by the Citizens' building committee, in which the chamber will have headquarters, will be ready for occupancy by October 1, and that after that time such gatherings as the one he was addressing and the forum meetings, could be held there under more favorable conditions than have obtained in the past. In that connection, he stated that with the assistance of the women's advisory committee the chamber hoped to put on a three-day carnival in the new building to provide funds for carrying on the necessary activities of the organization for the coming year. This friendly speech on behalf of the chamber was greeted with applause and then Mayor Robinson was called upon, and arose promptly, as though anxious to get his bit of oratory off his chest.

Mayor Robinson

He began by thanking President Cooper and Secretary Rhoades for the letter they had sent to him and his fellow councilmen expressing the chamber's desire to assist and cooperate "without dictation," and said: "I appreciate that, and I appreciate what has been said here this evening."

He referred to an address he had heard eighteen years ago in Los Angeles, when that city was practically without paving and Glendale was unknown. It was made by Dr. Thompson, one of the great orators of the day, who declared that the nation that succeeds must build roads and whose prediction that a national highway would yet extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific has almost been realized. He followed this with the declaration that road improvement and sewers are two of the things on which the city council is a unit. He then said:

"I think a great deal of the four other members of the council. They are determined to make this city the best little city in the country and I DO NOT BELIEVE ANYONE CAN DICTATE TO THEM. They do not need any artificial stimulant to keep them going. We have had many extra meetings and expect to have about fourteen before this month is over. We long ago exhausted the charter limit, and I figure we are going to lose about $80 apiece. (Laughter.) We want you to be friendly with us and we want to be friendly with everyone in Glendale."

The burst of applause which followed this contribution, which the mayor instructed the reporter to make an "address," showed that his friendly sentiments were reciprocated.

City Manager Watson

City Manager Watson was then asked to say something in regard to sewers. He referred to the proposed units for the business district as most urgently needed and a method of solving the problem for several years to come, urging the chamber to get back of the project. Incidentally, he mentioned the Verdugo canyon system, which, it is hoped, will point the way to solving the problem for the whole city.

City Attorney Shaw

In response to call, City Attorney Shaw said:

"Members of the new city government have a lot of hard work ahead of them. They realize it and are going ahead with the intention of doing the best they can. Glendale is growing too fast for its resources and abilities, and is making problems it is impossible to fully meet. With only a limited amount of income, we have an unlimited amount of things we could do if that income could be stretched out."

"One of the most important things to do, if we happen to disagree with members of the city government, is to disagree gracefully with the idea that they are doing the best they can. If this chamber of commerce can pass that idea around among the people, it will accomplish something for the benefit of the city of Glendale."

Dr. Jessie A. Russell

After a humorous preamble about a "close-up" of the feet under the table, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, in response to call, said:

"You will always find the women of Glendale ready to cooperate, whether around a conference table or in committee work. In them you have an incentive, energy and vitality."

Mrs. Ella Richardson

Mrs. Ella Richardson told of picnics held in Verdugo Woodlands because there seemed to be no better place to hold them in years past, for conferences on civic matters, and said:

"I think the women of Glendale are interested in the home, the child and the city, and they are all one vital thing. If we could just get together and see each other's point of view we could cooperate and work together in the community spirit. We want you to call on us for anything we can do."

Councilman Lapham

Councilman Lapham reminded his fellow-citizens that Glendale now has a population of 21,000 and is a real city with real problems, chief among which is the budget on which he and his fellow councilmen are working hard. "We want to keep the tax rate low," he declared, "and at the same time there are a lot of things we want to do to give you results."

He voiced the appreciation of the council of the chamber's cooperation and mentioned public camp grounds and the ordinance now in preparation to regulate them, as one of the matters in which the chamber could help.

Councilman Davis

Councilman Davis told of the confidence with which his fellow members had inspired him since he had seen them in action and after being a little dubious to start with, he is now glad he had been elected to share their responsibilities. He mentioned a public comfort station as one of Glendale's urgent needs, though he did not know how it was to be financed.

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, after a happy preliminary said:

"I feel especially interested in the program our mayor has announced relative to sewers and good roads. I do not own an auto but I have had frequent rides in the back seats of other persons' autos, and therefore know something of the inequalities of our streets. Above all things, I think we need a sewer system in our city. I have been glad to work with Mr. Watson on that committee and will be glad to fit in wherever Mr. Rhoades thinks he can use me."

Councilman Kimlin

Councilman Kimlin said:

"I am sure we are in the camp of our friends and not the enemy. I want to say something in regard to women. As I look back on my experience of 20 years, I find that where I have taken the counsel of my wife and prior to that, of my mother, I have never gone very far wrong. That has increased my confidence in women in general and I believe if the directors of the chamber of commerce and the city council will be willing to take counsel with women, we will not go very far wrong. I am a booster for Glendale. I think it is the most wonderful little city in all the country. In talking with the mayor recently, I said that we do not realize what is ahead of Glendale. Values are going up and up. We are going to have a greater Glendale and that is why we are here tonight. To bring it about we must have cooperation between the council, the chamber

German Maids Lack Furniture to Marry

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 13.—Is Stahl stalling?

This question was asked here when local residents received letters from J. Stahl, Duisburg, Germany, estimating that more than 2,000,000 German women are minus husbands and are devoid of facilities for locating them.

Due directly to the superior marksmanship of allied soldiers during the recent World War, Stahl said, these women have not had an opportunity to marry.

Not only are marriages in Germany as scarce as snowdrifts in July, but a shortage of furniture, also is held responsible, in part, for the dearth of marriages.

Prompt accommodation was assured by Stahl in the event that any person desiring a German wife would write him.

SHALL IT BE USED AS PUBLIC PARK OR AS A MISSION?

The case to determine whether "Little Landers Park" at Tujunga will become a public park or be used as a new mission site is opened in the superior court before Judge York in Los Angeles.

According to persons involved in the settlement an effort will be made to require the Western Farms Company, which owns considerable acreage in and around Tujunga, to turn a section of land over for public use as a park, under the terms of an old agreement, rather than permit its use as a site for a new mission.

AMERICA'S OLDEST ELK A RESIDENT OF GLENDALÉ

Colonel Charles F. Lenone was yesterday accorded the honor of being the oldest Elk in the United States. Col. Lenone is a familiar figure in Glendale where he has made his home for several years. He is ninety years of age and is a remarkable specimen of physical development and a shining example of what can be accomplished by systematic exercise.

Col. Lenone is an old plainsman, scout and Indian fighter and still clings to the habiliments of the early days, the sombrero, flowing tie and comfortable low necked shirts. His long silvery hair, mustache and goatee give him a distinguished appearance and mark him to the observer as a man of parts.

The Colonel is a constant visitor at Glendale Lodge where he is held in high esteem.

C. & B. CIGAR STORE CHANGES HANDS

Don F. Carn, proprietor of the C. & B. cigar store and Soda Fountain has disposed of his interests to Messrs. Fred C. Gilbert and A. C. Bowling of Victor, Iowa who are old timers at this particular business and who will conduct it along the same lines as Mr. Carn, whose pleasing personality and efficient service has won him a host of friends during his short residence in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Carn and their little family will still continue to reside in Glendale. They are deeply impressed with the city and it's wonderful development and Mr. Carn will no doubt engage in some other enterprise as soon as the opportunity presents itself.

Mrs. Carn is an operatic singer of note and is loth to sever the pleasant relations she has enjoyed in her work while in Glendale.

Messrs Gilbert and Bowling are live wires and with the excellent location and enviable reputation of this stand should continue to enjoy the patronage and prosperity of their predecessors.

BIG FLORAL PARADE TOMORROW WILL BE FIRST OF FOUR SUCH EVENTS

All thoughts of local Elks are now directed upon the parade in Los Angeles to begin at 10:30 tomorrow morning. Glendale will have a big representation in the line of march and hundreds of friends of the lodge members will journey into the city to witness the review. The main thoroughfares over which the Elks will march are as follows:

Seventh and Hope, Seventh and Los Angeles, Sixth and Olive, Fifth and Los Angeles, Eighth and Grand, Ninth and Hope, Eleventh and Main streets.

This is the first of four parades that will be held in Los Angeles Thursday and Friday. Thursday night the electrical parade will fall into line at 9 p. m. On Friday morning the massed band parade will tune up at 9:30 while an hour later the floral parade will get under way. The floral parade bids fair to rival the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. Most of the lodges sending large representations to Los Angeles will have entries in the floral parade. The Glendale Elks are making every effort to enter a float that will show up to as great advantage as the New Year's float at Pasadena.

NEW MILLINERY STORE TO OPEN

Glendale is soon to have a new and progressive millinery store. On Saturday morning, at 123 North Brand boulevard, Mrs. Jane E. Gilbert will welcome the ladies of this city and vicinity to view the large, complete and up to the minute millinery styles right from the style centers of the world. Mrs. Gilbert comes from Boston and New York, where she has been closely identified with some of the largest millinery houses in the country.

In speaking of locating in Glendale Mrs. Gilbert says that she believes that this is one of the most progressive cities of the West and it will be her desire to meet the millinery requirements of the public in general as far as popular prices go, as an illustration of this part of the program she will carry the latest styles at prices ranging at $5, $7.50, $10 and $15.

QUAKER CITY ELKS VISIT GLENDALÉ

The famous band of the Philadelphia Lodge of Elks were visitors at the Glendale Lodge last night where they furnished high class music for the delectation of the local herd until the "wee sma's" hours.

This musical contingent presents a most striking appearance wherever they appear and are famous for the music furnished by their one hundred members. Their uniforms are very plainly made, but of rich dark blue material that strikes the eye as about the neatest and richest thing ever in the shape of a uniform.

It is needless to state that they were royally entertained by the members of 1289.

Light Cavalry Overture

(By International News Service)
LYNN, Mass., July 13.—Music may have power to soothe a savage beast, but its effect on a pair of nice tame milk-cart horses is not quieting. Miss Elizabeth Mestor was seated at a piano at her home when a pair of horses, drawing a milk truck crashed through the side of the house. After the animals were led out of the parlor the young woman resumed her playing.

Not Alone the Demands of Beauty

The floors of our homes are worthy of more than passing consideration. Expert opinion is in favor of the hardwood floors, for besides being much more beautiful, they are more sanitary and much easier to properly clean than the old carpeted floors, as, you know, carpets at best, are only nesting places for innumerable moths! But in selecting your hardwood floors be careful to have only the best put in, as they will give life-time of service. Call the Glendale Hardwood Flooring Co. of 304 E. Broadway for the prices on hardwood floors.

Wouldn't you love to have a darling little four-room bungalow, all for your very own? AIN'T WE GOT FUN?—is the joyous question which is asked time and again throughout the snappy fox trot by the same name played by the Yerkes Jazambra Orchestra for Columbia next month. Yes, I said next month—for there are a few selected numbers, from the August list of Columbia records which KENNEY MUSIC SHOP of 203 N. Brand boulevard have just received as the Mid-Month Special list. On the other side, the Happy Six, in a dandy dance number tells of a day "NOT SO LONG AGO!" Wang Wang Blues in itself is a most popular number—but sung by Va and Schenk—it is simply beyond description! Coupled with another real Va and Schenk Song, the kind everyone likes to hear them sing "AIN'T YOU COMING OUT MALINDA," it's a record that can't help but be a favorite with all who like the best of popular songs sung in the most entertaining way. Charles Harrison, who has so endeared himself to millions of gramophone owners is if possible, more wonderfully sympathetic than ever in his latest success, "YOU MADE ME FORGET HOW TO CRY." It's coupling is a selection that most everybody knows—"DO YOU EVER THINK OF ME?"—sung by another exclusive Columbia artist, Fred Hughes. You know Kenny's Music Shop is the new store which has just opened at 203 N. Brand boulevard with a full line of Columbia Gramophones and records. The Phone is Glendale 65-W.

In our wonderful Southern California of all places one feels the necessity of money. It is such a joy to have enough money in the bank to buy a dear little bungalow, or new automobile when you find just what you want—and such a disappointment to realize with bitterness that through your own neglect the pleasures of a comfortable home and a delightful new car must be foregone—just because there isn't enough money in the bank for a first payment—no matter how low it may be or how reasonable the cost. Haven't you ever looked yourself straight in the eye and said—"Look here, if I just deposit a small amount of my weekly income at the First National Bank of Glendale it will be working for me—I'll no longer be working for my money, but for once the tables will be turned!" Why just think of the interest at the end of a year! And, between you and me—there's no more fascinating habit that you can develop than systematic saving. The First National Bank of Glendale is at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway—very handy for you to stop in and deposit just a small portion of your salary—only the amount you might otherwise spend on ice-cream sodas or other such pleasures.

To remove stains from table linen stretch the stained portion of the material over a basin, rub with common salt and pour on boiling water, then repeat the process until the stain disappears. If the stain is dry, salts of lemon must be used in the same way, but unless the material is washed and rinsed immediately afterwards, it will rot.

To keep linoleum fresh and bright rub over with a dry cloth. Then once a week wash with warm water and soap and when thoroughly dry rub over with a flannel dipped in milk. Beeswax and turpentine will give a high polish, but renders the linoleum so slippery as to be dangerous.

You'll be simply delighted with the effect of a genuine Navajo rug in brightening up the den! And they're so easy to keep clean, too. The Enterprize Furniture Company of 216 East Broadway have an excellent stock of the genuine Navajos and also some beautiful velvets in Axminster and Brussels Rugs. There's almost any color that you might wish at the Enterprize Furniture Company, and they're all rugs that will enhance the beauty of any room.

Made Just for You.

Have you ever stopped to analyze just why you glance at a dress and say, "No, that one won't do for me?" It's because you know instinctively when you've found the dress that reflects your very own personality! You don't like to wear just any dress that anyone else might wear, but a garment that really expresses YOU, is the gown in which you're happy and comfortable. And so it is with the Mina Taylor dresses which Hatz's of 132 S. Brand boulevard are showing. Mina Taylor's aren't just turned out mechanically, one right after the other, all in the same pattern, but they're different, they have individuality—and after all it's individuality which we all crave, in our clothes, our homes and our very surroundings! At Hatz's you'll find the most adorable frock for mornings at home, for shopping, picnicking and those suitable for afternoon wear. There has been a Mina Taylor made just for YOU, to reflect your personality, in just the right color and size, no matter whether you're small, medium-size or of larger stature, Hatz's have just the gown you've been looking for.

Attractiveness and Economy.

Too expensive to have your bathroom tiled this year, as you had planned? Of course, we all realize that the old-fashioned calcimine isn't nearly so attractive as the newer tiles. But then don't worry about it for I saw a really good varnished tile paper at L. H. Allison's, of 105 W. Broadway, today. It's just the thing for a neat-looking bath-room, and as it may be easily cleaned, you're sure of its always presenting a fresh appearance. And at first glance you'll be positive that it's the "real thing," such a clever imitation it is, with the slender blue stripe separating the blocks of purest white—but then you know what tiling is! This varnished tile paper comes very wide so it would take but little to paper an average bathroom, a small comparative cost. Then too, it would be quite appropriate for the modern kitchen. I think that a kitchen should be made just as attractive as any other room in the home, don't you? And really, there's no reason that I can see for the ugly green walls which one usually finds in a kitchen, when attractive, cool-looking varnished tile paper may be used to much better advantage. Drop into Allison's at 105 W. Broadway, for I know their prices will interest you, too.

ROBERT BURSON AND JESSIE DUTTON MARRIED

The force of example proved too much for Robert Burson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burson of 375 West Broadway and Jessie Dutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dutton of 113 East Laurel street. They two were great chums of Jack Hogley and his bride, and when the two last named told the story of their own very quiet wedding it inspired Robert and Jessie to do likewise in spite of the entreaties of their relatives to wait until fall. There was nothing clandestine about it as their determination was announced Sunday night and Monday they were married in Pasadena by the Rev. W. Walker with Jack and Aileen Hogley as attending witnesses. They have gone to the beach for a honeymoon and on their return will probably take an apartment that has been offered them. Robert is associated with his father as a plasterer and is an excellent workman who commands good wages.

STRINGENT 'DRY' LAWS IN FORCE IN BELGIUM

(By International News Service) BRUSSELS, July 13.—Belgium is about to take another step in the direction of prohibition.

Minister Vandervelde, it is announced, will shortly introduce a bill prohibiting the sale in bars, restaurants and cafes of "heavy wines," such as port and sherry. The new measure will not interfere with the sale of beer or light wines, but will be modeled after the law enacted about eighteen months ago, suppressing the sale in public places of whisky, cognac and other hard liquors though permitting their sale for consumption at home.

On the whole the law aimed at hard liquors has worked fairly well with comparatively few attempts at evasion and not many arrests. The Government winks an eye at the sale of whisky, cocktails and other kick-producing drinks at summer resorts like Ostend and Spa, which attract many foreigners, but puts a heavy hand down on the hard liquor traffic elsewhere in Belgium.

TENANTS DOUBLE UP AND BEAT LANDLORDS

(By International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13.—Leading realty men of this city predict a reduction of at least 15 per cent. in rental costs early this fall. "I believe we are on the eve of a rent reduction. Especially do I believe this will be true of apartments. I look for lower rents in the fall," said John A. Moore, of the Rieger-Moore Realty Company.

"People are doubling up with other families to dodge the excessive rents. Others are taking roomers—roomers who would rent a house or apartment if rents were lower. This condition has resulted in our having a number of vacant apartments on our lists. Other agencies also have vacancies. I am led to believe that landlords will be willing to accept lower rentals in the fall," he added.

OREGON LAW DOUBLES DEBT OF A GAMBLER

(By International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—When Joe Mozorsky, proprietor of a jewelry store here, declared himself a bankrupt an attachment was served on his body and he was put in jail, following a suit for $800, alleged to have been won by Mozorsky in a gambling game in his store.

Sol Swire, who swore he lost that amount, got judgment in Circuit Judge Stapleton's court, and under the provisions of the State gambling law the sum was automatically doubled—making the award in his favor $1600. Mozorsky refused to pay on the grounds of bankruptcy.

After spending more than two months in jail he was released on $2,000 bail, pending appeal of the case to the State Supreme Court. If the higher court upholds the decision of the Circuit Court Mozorsky must pay or go back to jail.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Luster at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous and you appear years younger.

STORK PAYS VISIT TO ELLIAS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin-Hart of Fresno who are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ellias of West Cypress avenue, have just welcomed their first child, a daughter who was born Tuesday the 12th. She has been named Elizabeth Jeanne Hart, in other words for her father, Jeanne being one of the feminine equivalents of John. Mother and child are doing well. Mrs. Hart is a niece of Mrs. Ellias.

Played 'Exodus' Without Key

(By International News Service) CADIZ, Ohio, July 13.—Walter Scott, of Alliance, played steadily for several days on an organ placed in the corridor of the County Jail by the Salvation Army.

One morning Scott and George Reed, of Byesville, were not to be found.

An investigation by the prison officials disclosed that the organ had been utilized to deaden the noise created by using a section of a radiator in digging through the jail wall. The missing prisoners escaped through the hole in the wall.

Ozark Pirates

(By International News Service) CONWAY, Ark., July 13.—Moonshiners have come down from the hills in a sort of a piratical effort to escape the provisory penalties for non-observance of Volsteadism. The latest is a complete liquor making device on a floating raft, securely chained to a Cypress "knee" in a dense canebrake on Grassy Lake, eighteen miles south of here.

Revenue officers rowed far out into the canebrake and confiscated the booze plant, along with forty gallons of "mash," while the thirsty patrons of the cache-owner are awaiting delivery of the "next consignment."

Lenin Relents

(By International News Service) BERLIN, July 13.—Lenin plans to restore to his private owners all factories employing less than 300 workmen, according to a dispatch to the Berlin Borsen Zeitung. The income and profits of the companies will be controlled by the State.

"THE SERPENT TOMB" MYSTERY IS SOLVED

(By International News Service) SAVANNAH, Ga., July 13.—The mystery of "The Serpent Tomb" in Colonial Cemetery has been solved. In this old burying ground, in the center of the downtown district of Savannah, for many years visitors have viewed with interest an unmarked obelisk, on each side of which a serpent twined to form a circle was the only inscription. Visitors have been entertained by strange stories of its history. One of the favorite tales was that it was erected to the memory of a young man who lost his life in a duel and whose last request was that his name should not be inscribed upon his tomb. Other stories had it that the stone marked the grave of Burton Gwinnett, one of the signers from Georgia, of the Declaration of Independence.

Now the tomb bears the inscription: "Archibald Bulloch, First President of Georgia, 1776-1777. "Born in South Carolina, 1730. Died in Savannah, 1777."

"Patriot, Soldier, Statesman." And beneath are these words, from White's Statistics:

"Georgians, let the memory of Archibald Bulloch live in your breasts. Tell your children of him and let others tell another generation." The inscription has just been put on the famous old tomb by Archibald Bulloch's great-granddaughter, Miss Emma Bulloch, of Washington, who declares there has never been any mystery about the old tomb; that she has always been desirous of marking the tomb of her famous ancestor, who was the great-grandfather of Mittie Bulloch, the mother of Theodore Roosevelt.

Salvage Marital Skiff

(By International News Service) POPULAR BLUFFS, Mo., July 13.—After being separated for twelve years, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ellis, of Catron, have been remarried. The couple married first in 1895, but after fourteen years of wedlock Ellis obtained a divorce, following domestic troubles. The couple were brought together again by friends, and after "patching the skiff," they will again paddle life's canoe as one.

RICH YOUNG MAN "BUMS" A RIDE

BINGHAMTON, July 13.—Robert Peet, aged twenty, son of a wealthy Washington family and a student at Cornell University, was arrested here by railroad police on a charge of "bumming" a ride on a freight train. Peet had traveled from Ithaca to this city and was on his way to his parents, who are touring California, he told the police.

Peet, who was dressed in stylish corduroy riding breeches, high-top leather moccasins, golf stockings and an army shirt, said: "I don't have to travel this way. My people have lots of money. But I like the adventure; I like the life of a vagrant."

He had $18 when arrested, but said that sum would meet all his needs until he reached California. He has just finished two years at Cornell.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation; thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

CAREFUL MOTORISTS MAKE FOR FEWER ACCIDENTS

Judge Frank Lowe, of the local police court, who knows the foibles and psychology of motorists from A to Z, speaking this morning on an interview given out by F. E. Lewis, of the Lewis-Phillard Automobile Distributing Company, of Los Angeles, declared that Mr. Lewis was right when he asserted that so long as motorists look on speed laws and motor ordinances as a plague to be evaded and gotten around when ever the opportunity affords, just so long will human life and safety be at stake.

It is true, said Judge Lowe in part, that the motorist feels that he is less a sinner than sinned against when he is arrested for violating some traffic ordinance. As a rule the policeman is denounced as a brute, the police judge, before whom the case comes, is looked upon as a tyrant and the motorist saturates himself with self pity and solicits sympathy. In the interview to which Judge Lowe had reference, Mr. Lewis pointed out that the offender "will swear he didn't see a sign or didn't know the limit or that he wasn't going that fast. He won't admit his own fault, yet if he reads of another motorist running down a pedestrian that man is denounced as a criminal."

Judge Lowe believes that the average motorist needs to be educated to a point of realizing that traffic laws are not only provisions for the security of pedestrians but for the safety of automobile drivers as well. He says it is pettiness to argue with and attempt to abuse the traffic officer.

A Grave Theft

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 13.—However pitiful a tale of woe may be advanced and regardless of the urgency of action, T. A. Ridout, undertaker, is not going to take anybody's check for a coffin—especially when some change is forthcoming.

J. W. James' baby had died, the banks were closed, and a coffin was needed by the next express. Ridout obligingly took his check for $75 and gave him change from a $50 coffin. The coffin was unclaimed, and Ridout is out $25.

OLD NEW ENGLAND IS FAST DISAPPEARING

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, July 13.—Women's present-day dress and bootlegging are blamed for the increase in crime in this State by Chairman Frank A. Brooks, of the Board of Parole.

During the year, ending June 1, it was announced, 2,990 persons were committed to penal institutions of the State, an increase of 691 over the previous year.

"Bootlegging and women's present-day dress, which turns our streets into burlesque stages, are the principal causes for this increase," said Dr. Brooks.

"Marriage has become a joke. Young men steal to gratify the craving for luxury of modern women. Discipline has broken down. The old New England home is fast disappearing."

American Lady
Corsets

Boned throughout with Mightybone

"... and the beauty of it is it will keep these good lines!"

What a satisfaction it is to be able to say that! What a joy to know that your corset will keep its good lines. That is the perfection of American Lady Corsets—so unlike your experience with other corsets, that quickly lose all their smartness because the boning becomes misshapen, "played out"! For the style-lines that clever designers skillfully embody in these corsets last as long as the corset itself. MIGHTYBONE—with which every American Lady model is boned—holds the corset always in its original lines of fashion.

And not only does MIGHTYBONE prove its superiority by splendid service, but it makes for more comfort, more natural grace of figure. Because of it American Lady Corsets are never over-boned. (Over-boning, you know, gives that very apparent, much-to-be-avoided "corseted" appearance.)

For your protection, the MIGHTYBONE tag is attached to every American Lady model. It is a positive pledge that the corset you are buying will continue to render the perfect service in comfort, style and fashion that you enjoy when you first put it on.

Bill, We Bid You Welcome

GLENDALE ELKS WILL
STEP LIVELY
TOMORROW

Tomorrow will long be remembered by the Antlered fraternity as the day of the big walk. Spick and span in their Palm Beach marching suits, the members of Glendale 1289 will prance along the leading thoroughfares of the City of Angels to the tune of "Hall-Hall, the Gang's All Here" led by the monster elephant and his escort bearing the favored few of the Lodge on his capacious back.

Officers and members are bending every effort to make their part in this grand spectacle the most impressive in the whole line and with that in mind have requested that every member possessing the necessary habiliments get into his glad rags and present himself at the formation point not later than 9:30 on Thursday morning.

Glendale Lodge will form on the west side of Olive street between Fourteenth and Pico, and it is imperative that every brother be there on time. In addition to the Palm Beach suits, all marchers are instructed to wear white shoes, white socks and white hats.

Indications all point to the fact that this will be the greatest parade in the history of the Order and with that in mind it naturally follows that Glendale will play its part in a manner befitting the occasion.

FRACAS OCCURS AT BALL GAME

"Some" game was staged at the Sunland county park yesterday when the had hitting nine from West Crescenta crossed bats with their rivals from Sunland in a fracas that was scored in rounds rather than innings and included spectators as well as players.

The ball game is reported to have started out smoothly enough with both teams playing an even contest until one of those little arguments that crop up in base ball occurred. The Sunland constable and officer Purrier of Burbank were required to settle the controversy.

STYLES ARE FIXED FOR OXFORD CO-EDS

LONDON, July 13.—Thorny questions about the proper kit of the Oxford University women students are being put to the Junior Proctor, who is the one licensed authority on fashion in academic clothes.

He has decided that women must come to examination in a skirt and coat of "subtused hue," which is the medieval ordinance still in vogue, if not obeyed, for man's attire.

Her blouse must be white, and her tie must be black. This decision does not end the fashion master's problems. A complaint was forwarded that the limp cap which goes with the gown gives no protection to complexion or neck against the heat of the sun. Might women undergraduates be allowed to carry a parasol while wearing cap and gown, and if so, of what color or colors?

The decision is that parasols may be carried, but must be black and white. It is probable that "black and white" is meant, for no parasol can be made more startling than a good magpie arrangement.

The kimono sleeve is now more than ever in favor. But the 1921 kimono wishes a new interpretation of its own style and, instead of being exceedingly wide under the arm, is quite snug. Quite a hard task for the home dressmaker, but decidedly chic and stylish.

BROTHER OF MRS.
LEEK PASSES ON

Mrs. H. M. Leek, 224 South Louise street, has just received details in regard to the death of her brother, T. L. Borden, of Luray, Mo., who died there July 7. Mrs. Leek survives as the last of eight children.

Mr. Borden is said to have enlisted with the 21st Missouri volunteers; at the outbreak of the Civil War, serving for five years under Colonel David Moore, and participating in the battles of Shilo, Corinth, and Gettysburg. He was a member of Sherman's army during the march to the sea.

Mrs. W. W. Alexander of 117 West Acacia avenue is suffering from several severe burns caused by overflow of grease while engaged in her domestic work. While painful, the burns are not considered to be of a serious nature.

Cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Kepler of West Garfield street who are on a trip by auto to Yellowstone Park. The last word received came from Salt Lake City where they report that the weather was extremely hot and uncomfortable.

Miss Ruth Ryan who has been at the Glendale Research Hospital for some weeks following an operation for appendicitis has recovered sufficiently to be returned to her home on West Acacia avenue.

JURY PRAYS FOR A MAN THEY CONDEMN

DALLAS, Tex., July 13.—After praying practically all night for divine guidance in arriving at a verdict in the case of Charles E. Gaines, a jury condemned Gaines to the gallows. He was tried for murder in connection with the death of G. W. Street, register clerk in a postoffice here, last January.

Several of the jurors offered prayers for the salvation of the doomed man's soul, it was said.

Alfred F. Priest, the present exalted ruler of the local Elks' lodge, No. 1289, though not one of the inaugurators, is one of those who live in deeds, not words. His best monument is the Glendale Elks' clubhouse, of which he was the architect and into which he put the best that was in him because of his loyal regard for the organization. It seems peculiarly fitting that, after due preparation in minor offices, the lodge should elect him to the highest position within its gift. On Wednesday evening, the assistant pastor, Rev. Louis Tinning, will lead the prayer service. There will be a conference of the Bible School officers and teachers on Thursday evening, which will be followed by a strong address. These services will culminate in a great service on Friday evening, to which all members and friends of the congregation are invited.

IT IS QUEER BUT TRUE:
That the lobster crawls forward but swims backward.

That there is one bird, the Mexican Motmot, that mutilates its tail feathers for ornamental purposes.

That two scavengers of the sea, the lobster and crab, are considered great delicacies for man's table.

That some folks still believe a hair from the tail of a horse will turn into a living creature called a hair-snake if left in water.

That man is no shortsighted he is forever upsetting the balance of nature to his own disadvantage and then wondering what is the cause of it.

That tiny spiders actually go ballooning, traveling long distances by casting out into the air a mass of fine silk which the wind catches and carries along with the spider.

That the scallop, a species of shellfish which looks like a clam with a fluted or scalloped shell, can swim and moves about in the water freely and with some speed.

That the little Hermit Crab has learned that to be reasonably safe it must have a shell, and so, lacking one of its own, takes possession of the empty shell of a whelk or periwinkle and soon is as much at home in it as if it were a part of him.

WILL MAKE PARIS GREAT RIVER PORT

(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 13.--An elaborate scheme to make Paris one of the largest river-ports in Europe is at present under discussion by the municipality of the city. It aims at the creation of three huge harbors in the immediate vicinity of the city, together with docks and basins. These harbors would be situated at Gennevilliers, on the west side of the city, and will maintain direct traffic with the sea, another at Boulogne, on the Marne, and to the south of Paris, will control the Upper Marne and Upper Seine traffic, and another at Ponton, on the Oureq, which by a new system of canals will be linked with the industrial district in the north of France. Branch lines of the main railroads will connect the latter with the ports.

The plan also calls for the deepening of the Seine between Boulogne and Paris so as to guarantee a depth of forty feet. New locks and bridges are also to be built. In certain parts of the river barges will be erected to supply electric and motor power to Paris and other important towns on the river Seine.

Parts of the fortifications around Paris are to be transformed into docks where ships could undergo repairs. Canals to link the principal rivers flowing through or near Paris are also to be built, thereby making it possible for sea-going ships to go from Le Havre to Marseilles via Paris. It is estimated that this vast plan could be carried out in less than ten years at a cost of $7,000,000 at the nominal rate of exchange.

"It will be noted," says the report "that in arriving at the dollars required, a sum in round numbers was given. It is the feeling of the committee that no one should come to Japan for sums less than the above. Unless it is definitely known that a 'house or mess' is provided he should consider the salary for boarders as the one to insist on."

Little hope for relief from the present high prices is seen in the replies given to the American Legion questionnaires. Of seventeen men making prophecies as to the probable changes in costs during the present year eight see little prospect of changes, five see increases of from 5 to 20 per cent, while four hope for decreases of from 5 to 10 per cent.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 13.--Never pour out effeminate cajoling to a horse that has a look of virility! That's the advice of Patrolman James Asher, who was kicked into sweet oblivion by a migratory-minded, blase-faced horse he encountered while roaming his "beat."

"Nice horsie, pretty horsie!" wheedled the copper.

An ambulance arrived shortly after "Horsie" had pivoted on his forefeet.

COLLEGE GIRL IS FOREST FIRE SCOUT

(By International News Service)

EUGENE, Ore., July 13.--Miss Dorothy Dickey, junior at the University of Oregon, seems to have a high aim in life, and so far she has been successful in the accomplishment of her desires. She is to be a forest fire lookout on Horse Pasture Mountain, 6000 feet above sea level, again this season, following her competent observation work at the same post last year.

From July 10 until some time in September--depending upon the start of the fall rains--Miss Dickey will occupy one of the two major lookouts in the McKenzie River district, located about eighty-five miles from Eugene. In order to reach her place of employment she must travel fifteen miles of the distance on foot, with a pack-horse to carry her belongings.

Last summer, the university girl was the first observer to locate six teen forest fires.

"I can hardly wait till it's time to go again," Miss Dickey said when asked if she liked her work. "It isn't lonesome up there. We have visitors almost every day. Last year four days was the longest time we were without a caller. My mother and sister stay with me, and we have a good time."

HIGH PRICE WAVE HAS HIT JAPAN

(By International News Service)

TOKIO, July 13.--Japan, the land of low prices, country where one may live on little or nothing monthly, is gradually vanishing, if a recent report of the American Legion Post of Tokio-Yokohama may be taken as a standard.

Statistics recently compiled by the local legion post, under a committee of which Dr. James F. Abbott, commercial attaché of the American Embassy was chairman, would cause those who contemplate an adventure into the country of easy riding rickshas, of flowers and beautiful geishas, to stop and wonder, consult the pocketbook and perhaps reconsider.

First of all, say the American Legion members, living in Japan lacks the luxurious tinge with which returned travelers to the United States have been prone to arouse an interest in this part of the world.

Salaries considered fairly good in the United States are not "good" salaries in the Orient, the result of the investigation shows. For example, these statistics give an idea of the average salaries in Tokio and Yokohama, salaries which many of the questionnaires reported were not sufficient to allow any saving whatever:

THEATRES

Palace Grand

The trials and tribulations of a modern Jack Spratt and his wife--or how to get fat and how to grow thin--furnish both fun and reflection in "The House That Jazz Built," the brilliant Wanda Hawley Reartart comedy which is appearing today at the Palace Grand Theatre.

The photoplay treats most humorously of a situation that is duplicated in many hundreds of homes every day. Douglas Bronston adapted it from Sophie Kerr's popular story in The Saturday Evening Post.

Today's bill at the Palace Grand will find Fatty Arbuckle, Buster Keaton and Al St. John cutting capers in "The Bell Boy," which Manager Jensen announces is one of the best comedy films it has been his privilege to show for weeks.

Many Ideas Evolved by

Active Citizens at Dinner

and the people of Glendale. Real cooperation, I believe, will mean that when the council takes action, even though it does not entirely agree with what you have in mind, you will say: 'We stand back of them anyway.' We cannot go forward and make a greater Glendale if we do not have that confidence back of us."

Mrs. Mabel Tight

"For about 35 years I have been working for the best interest of Glendale, and I expect to keep on working for a long time to come. I can be depended upon at any time to do anything possible for the benefit of Glendale."

Dr. Caroline Payne Jackman

"It must be a great joy to these ladies who have been here so long to tell us how proud they are to have grown up in Glendale, but it is even finer after being here but two years, to say how proud you are of Glendale. It is the best city I ever lived in. I am happy to be invited here as a guest and shall be happier when Mr. Rhoades calls upon me to do something."

Mrs. Margaret R. Biggs

"We are in a new era since the war. Women have suffered, paid the price, served in men's capacities, entered into every vocation in life and it is not strange that such a gathering as this should include women. It means that we are keeping abreast of the times. I believe that I am the youngest Glendalian here, but I have learned to love this city and whenever I can lend my services in cooperation, I shall be glad to do so."

Judge Frank H. Lowe

Judge Lowe paid a warm tribute to the council members, and then said: "But these men may make mistakes. When they do, criticize them honestly and constructively. Do not refer to them as 'a lot of highblinders.' I am glad we have an organization like the chamber of commerce and feel that its most important function is to get back of the members of this city council and hold up their hands and decry adverse criticism likely to hinder their work. I am delighted that the chamber has seen fit to appoint an advisory committee of women."

Mr. Person

This gentleman, a comparatively new comer, said he had been coming to California for 25 years, and that he knows every state in the Union fairly well. In his opinion, Glendale has had more done for it by God Almighty than any other city he knows of, and it behooves us as members, to give it the greatest possibilities. But we must think we are a real city, because we have far to go and many hard problems confront us. He spoke of Glendale's lack of hospitality to the stranger and of the great need of a hotel, urging that as the first great concern of the chamber of commerce.

Jesse E. Smith

Vice-President Jesse E. Smith said he preferred to give roses to criticism at this time, and he wished to congratulate Secretary Rhoades on his action in appointing an advisory committee of women, saying:

"I do not believe the chamber of commerce as a body appreciates all the work Mr. Rhoades does for the benefit of the organization. I think it behooves us as members, to give to Mr. Rhoades every bit of support we possibly can. These ladies will be a wonderful asset. We need their support. Our drive would have fallen down but for their assistance. One thing is absolutely necessary to the welfare of our community and that is unity. I believe with the nucleus we have here—the council, the chamber of commerce, these representative women—we have all we could ask for to work out the destiny of this wonderful city. Mr. Person says we need a hotel. It is true. But where can you find a hotel builder ready to come here until we have a sewer system? We must get the sewer proposition going and start an educational campaign for it. If every citizen will take his share of responsibility in putting over the things necessary for Glendale, nothing can stop this city from having a population of 50,000 inside of ten years."

J. G. Huntley

J. G. Huntley referred to the disappointment the chamber had experienced in getting good audiences at forum and noon-day meetings, and thought possibly it was due to insufficient attractions. He suggested the appointment of Mr. Person on the forum committee because of his large acquaintance with celebrities.

C. D. Lusby

C. D. Lusby endorsed Mr. Person's plea for a hotel and said he appreciated the cooperation of the ladies, and that he believed the city council had mapped out the right plan for present needs of Glendale, and hoped they would be pushed to completion.

J. A. Newton

Mr. Newton referred to his travels in the east and the dull times there, as compared with the west, and said: "I believe we have as prosperous a city as any in this country, for our men are all at work."

He then spoke of courtesy in greeting and directing strangers and said that if we would know more about our own town and more about our own folks, and get together more often in a friendly way, we would have a better place to live in.

Owen Emery

Owen Emery dwelt on the tremendous force of organization and said: "This city council has organized and delegated to certain members the line of work which they will be expected to foster, as well as giving attention to all the affairs of the city, and that indicates to me more than anything else, that we have a rounded city council which will do its utmost to give this city a good administration and get many of the things we need, started."

David L. Gregg

"I think I represent the chamber of commerce in saying: 'We are with you, tooth and nail. We are going to be with you now and always.'"

Peter L. Ferry

"The keynote of all the talk has been cooperation. Let us get behind the city council in everything they do, boost for them, and we will accomplish something."

Mayor Robinson

The speeches practically closed, the round having been made, when Mayor Robinson said:

"I have had one swell time tonight. I never knew before I was so popular. If I could only get each of you alone, I could make you believe I am a real good fellow."

SURPLUS OF BEEF NOW ON MARKET

(By International News Service)
DENVER, July 13.—Because of an over-supply of "Canned Willy" and "Bully Beef," former pals of the American doughboy in France, the "canner cow" is enjoying a new lease on life this summer.

Instead of going to slaughter preparatory to furnishing the "makins" for canned meats, canner cows are being sent back to the country to graze on succulent grass and ruminant upon the way times have changed since the armistice was signed.

The reprieve for the canner cow comes following a sharp slump in the demand for canned meats, resulting in a heavy reduction on the part of packers in the purchases of this cheaper grade of cattle.

When the armistice was signed the war department had a surplus of some 200,000,000 pounds of canned meats on hand. This has been disposed of. But despite this load hanging over the market, packers continued up to about a year ago to can meats in enormous quantities. The year 1919 showed the greatest output of canned meats for any year in the past decade. It was believed that an enormous demand for such products would be made by European countries at the termination of hostilities.

In the calculation, Germany was looked upon as a leading prospective buyer. According to reports, great quantities of both cured and canned meats were shipped to the various allied neutral countries surrounding Germany so that they could be rushed into that country as soon as peace was declared and trade relations resumed.

Various occurrences forestalled the plans however, and the canners were forced to adjust themselves to an overstocked market.

A tremendous decrease was noted in the canning industry in 1920, and this same tendency is in evidence this year, with the result that fairly good canner cows have been sold from $2.50 to $2.00 per 100 pounds on various livestock markets, with packers taking some as low as $1.50 per 100 pounds.

PREHISTORIC FISH IS FOUND IN RIVER BED

(By International News Service)
CONCORDIA, Kan., July 13.—The Solomon River, near Stockton, continues to bring forth many queer things. Henry Reich, who lives near Stockton, found a fin of a prehistoric fish while searching the river bed. The member has become petrified, and weighs about 100 pounds.

Reich will send the remnant to the State University at Lawrence for classification.

"Babe" Ruth "Panned"

(By International News Service)
WORCESTER, Mass., July 13.—There is at least one coterie that refuses to get excited over Babe Ruth or his home run exploits. It is Worcester's clergy. In fact, the "Babe" is receiving no little "panning" here, it being declared he has little claim on the admiration of fandom aside from his wielding of his war club.

HONOR THE FLAG

The Glendale Daily Press struck a responsive chord in its offer of a beautiful bunting flag with each yearly subscription paid in advance. All we could procure at that time were speedily taken and many applied for the flags after the supply had been exhausted. To satisfy these demands we have ordered a new supply, and these will be given on the same terms as were the first. The Daily Press is not doing this as a money-making proposition, for the flags are quite costly and the paper is worth every cent asked for it, but we desire to do our bit toward stimulating patriotism and reverence for the flag. We hope to eventually see "Old Glory" displayed in every Glendale home, and we want to do our part toward bringing this about.

Fill out the coupon below and bring it or mail it to the office, accompanied with $5 for a year's advance subscription, and a flag will be laid away for you. If in arrears, pay to date and a year in advance to get the flag.

ROMANCE INCEPTION DURING POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Margaret Potter Weds United States Attorney Lennon as Result

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—A romance which had its inception during the campaign of Senator Hiram Johnson for the Republican nomination for the Presidency, came to light today when it was learned that Assistant United States Attorney Lloyd Lennon had married Mrs. Margaret Potter, of Chicago, who was in charge of the California senator's Illinois headquarters during the campaign. Lennon toured Illinois on behalf of Johnson and met Mrs. Potter.

Investigation by a committee of the American Legion of charges that Lennon was the instigator of a telegram from Chicago withdrawing Charles H. Kendrick as a candidate for commander of San Francisco Post No. 1, caused the assistant United States attorney to announce his marriage sooner than he had intended. Mrs. Lennon has arrived in San Francisco and is expected to testify before the Legion committee tomorrow night. Lennon characterized the charges against him as "a petty Legion political plot."

REFUSES TO WORK, BUT DANCES PRETTY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13.—This narrative deals with the "earnest" man.

Her face, registered extreme weariness; her shoulders were stooped, and she looked as though she would soon drop from sheer exhaustion, as she walked into the office of W. J. Burke, attorney for the Free Legal Aid Bureau.

"My husband has not worked for month," she started, on one of the common "regulation" pleas which are heard daily at the bureau. "He is a plumber and able to work."

"I work to support my three children and keep them in school. I prepare lunches for them to carry, and my husband takes their food. I do not want to sue him, because of the children, but I am at the end of the road."

"Last night he wanted to go to a dance, as usual. I had only one pair of silk stockings—the first I ever owned. He found them and cut off the tops, so he could wear them to the dance."

The attorney told the woman to secure a non-support warrant.

HARDING REVERTS TO BOYISH VERNACULAR

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 13.—President Harding can, when occasion demands, forsake diplomatic language for the vernacular of his boyhood days.

The other day, upon completing a round of golf with some friends, he drew out a five dollar bill and handed it to one of the caddies with the terse command "Whack."

FOREST PROBLEM TO BE STUDIED

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 13.—Following a preliminary meeting here it was announced that the committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to study forestry problems will make a trip to the Pacific Coast. In its endeavor to formulate a national forestry policy this National Forestry Policy Committee of the Chamber will not confine itself to a study of principles embodied in forestry bills before Congress, but will make an independent investigation.

"Forest resources in the East and South are reduced to the point where 61 per cent. of the total stand of saw timber lies west of the Great Plains, and over 50 per cent. in the three Pacific Coast States," says a statement by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, in commenting on the importance of the trip.

"Our demand upon the latter is becoming heavier each year and with it our freight bills are becoming larger and larger. Investigations of a number of large retail lumber companies in Southern Minnesota show that the average transportation cost of material handled by them, due primarily to the increasing volume of western lumber which these companies have had to import in order to supply the needs of their territory, has increased 262 per cent. in the last fifteen years. Yet these companies are in a region which only a few years ago was immediately contiguous to the greatest lumber producing region of the country, and which might still be a great producer were its idle lands productive."

Seek National Policy

"Is it not high time that we took steps to cut our freight bills for forest products and at the same time to remove one of the serious causes of freight car congestion by adopting a program which will put our 81,000,000 acres of wholly idle and 235,000,000 acres of partially idle lands to work?"

Joseph H. Defrees, president of the National Chamber, says it is not the intention of the Board of Directors of the Chamber that the committee should only go into the bills before Congress, but that it should endeavor to formulate general policies of its own after a thorough study of the whole forestry questions. He said there were no limitations to its activities in investigating and reporting on a national forestry policy.

The committee thereupon decided that it would make an exhaustive study of the subject in all its different phases. In this connection the committee adopted this resolution:

"Resolved, That there should be co-operation between Federal Government and the States as well as private timberland owners to forward a national forestry policy."

Members of the committee number some of the most widely-known business men and educators in the country.

Fires Into Muzzle of Enemy

(By International News Service)
MONTICELLO, Ga., July 13.—Firing a bullet into the cylinder of a revolver which a negro was firing recently, Policeman E. C. Price rendered the weapon useless and saved his own life. A second shot killed the negro, Frank Wilson, who fell attempting to fire his disabled pistol. The middle finger of the officer was shot away while he was trying to arrest the negro on a charge of gambling. The officer was exonerated.

Uncorked

(By International News Service)
BEAVERTON, Ore., July 13.—Wayne Wolf, six years old, complained of a sore throat. His mother took him to a physician. The doctor, after an examination, was puzzled and took an X-ray picture. A fair-sized cork, wedged in the lad's throat, was disclosed. Wayne finally admitted he had swallowed the cork several days previously, but said it hadn't bothered him before.

An operation was performed to remove the stopper.

"Funny Sheets" Out Again Saturday

On account of the Daily Press omitting its comic section last Saturday dozens of inquiries came in during the week asking why it failed to arrive. The reason was this: Saturday before the 4th of July the regular comic section was run, and on July 4th, a day later, the comic section, which in reality was a Fourth of July section, was inserted in the July 4th paper on Monday. It was more appropriate for Monday than Saturday, hence it was used in the July 4 edition.

The numerous calls for the comic section convinces the Daily Press that it is appreciated by the 2050 subscribers of the paper, and they can depend upon it reaching them every Saturday.

FIVE ESSENTIALS OF COURTSHIP

(By International News Service)
LONDON, July 13.—Five essentials of courtship were laid down by counsel in Mr. Justice Lush's court.

Mr. S. J. P. Merlin was addressing the jury for Mr. William Cuthbert Cromwell, motor engineer's clerk, of Brightonroad, Redhill, who was sued by Mrs. Winifred Kate Coales, a war widow with two children, for alleged breach of promise.

In the correspondence, counsel pointed out, there was nothing even approaching what was usually called a love letter, and not a single letter which contained a stronger term than "Yours very sincerely."

There was no engagement ring, and the young man took the widow to no theatres—not even to a picture theatre. There were five essentials in the conduct of engaged persons to each other which here were totally absent. Mr. Merlin gave the first three—love letters, engagement ring and the introduction to the respective families. The Judge then interjected: "I have exhausted them when I think of those three. What are the others? Counsel said the others were the giving of presents and the taking of lover-like expeditions and outings."

"Look back at your own engagements, ladies and gentlemen," he urged. (There were two women on the jury.)

"Can you say," he asked, "that during that period any one of the five was absent?" The jury merely smiled.

The Judge, summing up, said he did not know what the jury thought of a young woman who had been married sixteen or seventeen years and had two children who within ten days of hearing of the death of her husband while serving his country made an agreement to marry someone else. Nor did he know what the jury thought of the woman if her story was true, allowing a young man to come to her while her husband was alive and talk about his being willing to marry her if she were free.

After an hour's retirement the jury intimated that they found for the woman, but awarded no damages.

The Judge: "You must give a farthing; that is the nearest to nothing that I can think of."

"The Faults of Our Brothers
Their Virtues Upon The Table"

CHARITY

ADDRESS

GRAND EXALTED RULER
WILLIAM M. ABBOTT

San Francisco, Cal., July 9, 1921

To the Officers and Members of the Grand Lodge,
Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks:

My Brothers:—Herewith I submit a report for the year upon matters which seem to be of sufficient importance to refer to especially, but, before referring to these matters in detail, I desire to say:

FOREWORD

The year just closing has been one of the most enjoyable years of my life. The intimate glimpses into the life of our order, the personal contact with so many of the men who have guided the destinies of the subordinate lodges, the self-sacrificing labors of the representatives of the grand exalted ruler in the various districts throughout the country, have demonstrated more than ever the great and abiding affection and the impelling grip which the order has on the real manhood of America. It has demonstrated more than tongue can tell or pen can write that which I thought I knew somewhat of when I assumed this great office at Chicago last year; it has lifted the curtain and revealed more of the length and breadth and height of influence and power for good which this order wields than I had even thought were possible—it has demonstrated that this order of ours is a living, breathing, resistless force which has taken hold of the hearts of men. It is, indeed, the Great Heart Order of America.

It is the Great Heart Order of America because I believe it is guided and prompted in all its endeavors for good by real heart sentiment. Far and above all other things, the Elks hold the promptings of the heart, and they have demonstrated this in countless ways and different forms. The heart that loves its fellowmen and strives to relieve their suffering and bring the great warm sunshine of human happiness into their lives. The heart that responds to the orphan's plea and answers the call of the sick. The heart that holds in reverence the memory of those who have gone before and, with unflinching remembrance, goes out to all wandering brothers at the sacred hour of 11. The heart that feels the depth of mother love and finds unmeasured joy in the reverent observance of the day consecrated to her. The heart that beats strong with the red blood of patriotism and holds respect of virtue, love of home, of country and of flag dearer than the very pulse beats that give it life.

Such is the great throbbing heart of the order of Elks, vibrant with human sentiment and sympathy and unflinching in its patriotism. Ready to give generous and immediate response to the call of need; anxious to extend encouragement to weary wayfarers on the road of life and, with extended hand and smiling face, to repel their faltering courage and cheer them on their way. That is the kindness of the heart of Elksdom; and yet that heart can become as steel—cold, intolerant and fearless—if the security of our country or its institutions is threatened either by alien enemy arms or the insidious propaganda of malcontents who, spurred by hatred born of their own shiftlessness and envy of the comfort which others have fairly earned, strive to tear down the very foundations of government upon which the liberty of our country is based.

It is because of this great heart sentiment that our order has become such a factor in the everyday life of America. This has led us from a small group of actor folk to our present commanding position as the greatest patriotic fraternity in the world. It is because I have felt the throbbing of this great heart across the length and breadth of our country while visiting the lodges this year as grand exalted ruler that I have come to know the power of that heart. Because of the high office I have for the moment held, I know probably better than most of the membership how much that heart directs the destinies of our order, how surely it guides our work, and how limitless is its power for good.

I have, therefore, urged the lodges of our fraternity to bend every effort to increase their membership.

I urged the membership growth because I feel sincerely that we can render no greater service to our country than to bring as many worthy American men as possible under the standards of Elksdom, where they would be made to realize more than ever before their duty to their country and to their fellowmen.

However high his position, however great his success, no man is more than human and no human being is so good that he cannot be made better. No man can affiliate with the order of Elks and become imbued with the great heart sentiment of the fraternity without becoming a better citizen and developing a kinder feeling toward his fellowmen. It teaches its members to realize the responsibilities of citizenship and the necessity of waging unending and relentless war on un-American doctrines and un-American ideas, to the end that our glorious Banner of Freedom may forever float to the breeze over a free people, proud of their institutions, proud of the liberty preserved to them at the cost of countless treasure and of hero blood.

Toward the accomplishment of this end the great heart of our order plays a most important part. Cold and relentless as it is toward visible manifestations of traitorous doctrines, its kindly charity, free from all ostentation, its real goodfellowship, knowing neither creed nor party, not schooled in the cruelties of war, nor actuated by the lustful fever of hate, its optimism and cheerfulness and all the other attributes of its great heart sentiment, do more than any other thing to make the efforts of the despoilers of our heritage valueless and in vain.

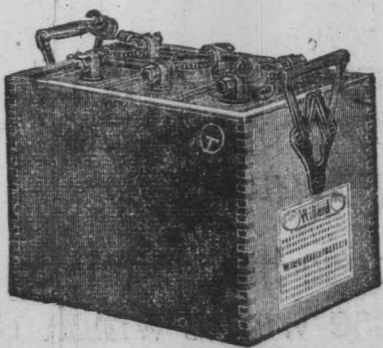

This power of the heart of Elksdom will grow greater as our membership increases until the kindly altars of protection will so enfold America that doctrines of hate and ill will can find no abiding place, and charity, justice and brotherly love, with fidelity to self and country, will be the watchwords of American manhood, as well as of our order.

HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION OF LODGE 1289

Present Officers of Lodge 1289

About nine years ago—in 1912, to be exact—there were several gentlemen who sported the double tooth and were possessors of the homogeneous spirit who got together under more or less auspicious conditions and evolved the idea of instituting an Elks' lodge in Glendale. Casting about them for available timber, they were greatly surprised to find a goodly number of the antlered herd browsing about with no one riding herd on them and apparently with no object in life except to be happy. While this condition is much to be desired by the ordinary person, it is against all teachings of the order to be happy for one's self alone, and in the course of a few weeks these lonely ones were signed up on an application for a charter for the lodge which was destined to become known as the model lodge of the jurisdiction.

The institution of the lodge was completed on August 12, 1912, in the temporary lodge room in the Central building, and it is a matter of unwritten history that the ceremonies were of a character long to be remembered by the charter members. To these good brothers the lodge will ever be grateful, for they have given to the city of Glendale an organization wherein the spirit of true fraternity brings together men from all walks of life and has done more than any one movement to wipe out factionalism, clanishness and sectional feeling that are the bane of all communities where they have taken root. Merchants, lawyers, doctors, bankers meet and greet as brothers the clerk, the mechanic, the salesman, the actor. Through this great medium we come to a better understanding of "the other fellow" and his problems, and too, we discover that, as Kipling has said:

"The Captain's lady and Judy O'Grady
Are sisters under the skin."

The Charter Members of this lodge were twenty-eight in number and consisted of the following gentlemen: Peter L. Ferry of Steubenville No. 231, Wm. Herman West of Minneapolis No. 44, H. W. Walker of Long Beach No. 888, Stephen C. Packer of Aberdeen No. 593, H. E. Hoffer of Toledo No. 53, S. A. Pollack of Rochester No. 24, F. J. Willett of Davenport No. 298, C. H. Boyd of San Pedro No. 966, Frank E. McKenney of Rockford No. 64, David L. Gregg of El Paso No. 187, Ed M. Lynch of Oakland No. 171, H. G. Martin of Redlands No. 533, Willis M. Kimball of Rockford No. 64, F. H. Patch of Bisbee No. 671, George T. Paine of Lead, South Dakota, No. 747, A. M. Parker of Marshalltown No. 312, John H. Fanset of Santa Barbara No. 613, D. F. Sullivan of Kansas City No. 26, John W. Lawson of Escanaba No. 354, W. J. Anderson of Salina No. 718, G. A. Bellinger of Salt Lake City No. 85, H. D. Brown of Petaluma No. 901, R. D. Clements of Paducah No. 217, H. D. McKevitt of Helena No. 193, H. E. Solmer of El Paso No. 137, J. J. Nesom of Shelbyville No. 457 and Dr. C. W. Bachman of Minneapolis No. 44.

After the ceremonies of initiation, the following officers were elected to serve the remainder of the lodge year: Peter L. Ferry, Exalted Ruler; Wm. Herman West, Esteemed Leading Knight; H. W. Walker, Esteemed Loyal Knight; S. C. Packer, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; F. B. McKenney, Treasurer; F. J. Willett, Tiler; A. M. Parker, Chaplain; H. E. Hoffer, Secretary; D. L. Gregg, Trustee, three years; F. B. McKenney, Trustee, two years; Ed M. Lynch, Trustee, one year.

On October 14, 1912, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler D. F. Hunt, of Santa Barbara, assisted by officers of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99 acting as Grand Lodge officers, regularly and officially instituted Glendale Lodge No. 1289 and installed the officers above mentioned.

THE LODGE THRIVES

That was the beginning. From its genesis to the present time, Glendale Lodge of Elks has been a very live bunch of the antlered herd. It has grown and flourished from the start with twenty-eight members, increasing continually and now has nearly eighteen hundred members, with applications coming in steadily.

The membership jurisdiction of Glendale Lodge embraces the cities and communities of Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock, Lankershim, Van Nuys, Simi, La Canada, La Crescenta, San Fernando, Newhall, Lancaster, and the picturesque foothill home city of Fillmore, residents of the cream home country of Southern California. These members are men in all walks of life, of all religious faiths and politics, big, red-blooded, intelligent, hale and hearty American citizens, including bankers, financiers, ranchers, land owners, business men engaged in every branch of industry, able professional men, employers and employees, all boosters for the Good of the Order of Elks. Men who delight in their home and lodge affiliations.

By active and novel boosting at various Grand Lodge sessions, No. 1289 has placed Glendale and the San Fernando Valley sections from whence its membership comes, on the map of the United States in a representative manner. And always it has lived up to the precepts of the order by dispensing charity without ostentation.

FIVE RULES for BUYING TIRES

- 1—Any of the standard makes are good tires. Select the brand you hear most about that delivers long mileage uniformly, tire after tire.
- 2—Don't be misled by looks. They have nothing to do with miles delivered on your car. Buy a safe practical non-skid, that prevents slipping the most. The MILLER GEARED-TO-THE-ROAD is now the nation's choice for big cars or small.
- 3—Select a tire you would buy the second, third and fourth times. Keep your service received uniform. A complete tire service on all four wheels is the modern and economical way to buy.
- 4—Deal with an honest merchant—one who doesn't recommend tires on the basis of discount to him. Your future patronage is worth more to the man who obtains for you the best he can buy.
- 5—Beware of tire sales. Remember, in the end, you don't get any more than you pay for. Getting adjustments is an expensive way for you to try and get even with the game.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

Because another has ideas which do not coincide with your own you condemn without a hearing.

Everything in this world consists of three things: The matter referred to, what that matter does and its action, and what happens as a result.

Cause and effect would be a simpler way to express it.

Because your eyesight is weak and you cannot distinguish details, you might not be able to tell the difference between an apple and a toy balloon which hung on an apple tree together.

The simple fact that you hear dripping water, unless you know that storm conditions exist, might as likely as not seem to you a leak in your own plumbing pipes if you were in a position to hear either.

Granulated sugar, cornmeal and common beach sand feel much the same if your sense of touch is none too keen.

It is well to give others the leeway in their thoughts and ideas which you reserve for yourself, and if you did there would be less religious and otherwise world intolerance.

One great big general law you will find at the bottom of everything which can happen in this world.

So long as a man or a woman keeps within the law what is the difference to you whether he or she wears a raincoat or carries an umbrella to keep dry.

YOUR WORD

"I used to think that a man must play fair with his own gang, of course, but the more he could cheat the other side the better," said an old leader of a labor organization. "But I've come to see something that counts more than that: You can't cheat on any side; you've got to keep your word wherever you give it. It's your word, just the same, whoever holds it."

And who are you—a self whose honor and integrity you must uphold as the most valuable of all possessions, whatever it costs in material gain. There are many around us who so count it, and to hold a promise of theirs means to us that they will redeem it if it lies within their power. But there are others on every side—pleasant, good-natured persons, who have no doubt of their own honor—who will keep their word if it does not prove to entail inconvenience. They have never learned to rank highly the self that stands back of their promise.

While on vacation, there are many times when one can't think of another thing to do except light another cigarette.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

A "Steamer" Saves Fuel

I find that most housewives do not sufficiently realize the importance of steam as a cooking medium. Every one, of course, knows that it is extensively used in hotels, restaurants, hospitals and similar institutions where cooking must be done on a large scale; but just in a small way, in the humblest home, it is equally valuable, being an economical, wholesome and labor-saving method of cooking.

There are many dishes that are usually boiled which might with great advantage be steamed, such as vegetables, meat, poultry, fish and all puddings suitable for boiling. In fact, nearly everything that is baked or boiled can be cooked better and more satisfactorily in a steam cooker. Steam cookers of various patterns may be purchased at any house-furnishing store.

A "steamer," or steam cooker, saves food, as nothing is lost by evaporation; there is no shrinkage of foods and nothing is burned. And, too, it is a saver of fuel, which is also important, and it is easy to manage and keep clean. A great variety of food can be cooked at the same time with very little attention. A whole dinner may be prepared at one time over one gas burner. Food cooked by steam is recommended by physicians as more healthful than when cooked in any other way.

Poultry and meat may be successfully steamed so that muscle fibers and sinews are so softened and rendered supple. Even the most venerable fowl can be made quite tender by the long, slow cooking obtained by the use of a good steamer. It will take three or four hours to cook, and instructions are always given with each type of pan for the amount of water required in the inner and outer vessels.

The good results of steaming are greatly aided by rubbing the outside of the fowl with lemon juice or with vinegar. If a brown skin is desired, such as is the result of roasting, the bird should be put into the oven, or before the fire, after removing it from the steamer. By the steaming process all the most nutritive qualities of meat are fully preserved, and it renders the tougher portions of meat beautifully tender.

Potatoes and all other vegetables are more nourishing when steamed than when boiled. Vegetables are rich in natural, health-giving minerals and, when these are washed away by overboiling, a vast amount of valuable properties is lost. The water in which vegetables are boiled should always be regarded as a vegetable stock, and turned to account for soup making.

Owing to the greater proportion of gelatin there is a greater loss of weight and nutriment when fish is boiled than is the case with poultry or meat, and unless the boiling is carried on with such care that the water is kept just under the boiling point fish treated in this fashion is tasteless and indigestible. Steamed fish retains a larger percentage of nutriment and is lighter than boiled.

Fish may be cooked by steam instead of boiling it. The fish is placed in a steamer which fits on a saucepan, and success depends upon keeping plenty of water boiling under it. Slices of fish, small skinned fish, fillets of fish can be cooked to perfection by steaming, whereas boiling would render them woolly and tasteless.

If it is only a small quantity of fish which requires cooking it may be steamed on a plate. Grease the plate with plenty of butter, and lay the fish neatly on it. Season to taste with salt and pepper and squeeze a little lemon juice over the top. Put a piece of well-greased paper on the top and cover with a second plate, or with the saucepan lid. Place this over a saucepan of boiling water and allow it to remain until the fish is sufficiently cooked. The liquid on the plate should be served with the fish, or made into a sauce, with a little butter and flour, and then poured over the fish.

This is an excellent way of serving fish for an invalid.

For heating milk, or making custards or mush, steaming is a perfect method, as it is impossible for the milk to be scorched or the pudding burned, and mush cooked in a steamer for three or four hours is made quite a new article of diet.

How to steam a pudding: As a rule the mold should not be more than three-fourths full, or even less, if the mixture is of a very light and spongy nature, as room must be allowed for the mixture to rise. Cover the top of the mold with a piece of greased paper, twisting it on so that it will not fall down the sides. Place it in a saucepan, with just sufficient boiling water to reach halfway up the mold, put a tight-fitting lid on the pan, and keep the water at the simmering point until the pudding is cooked. If the water boils down, more must be added.

GRAVE AND GAY

A United States senator had just finished a night's work on a speech. "You have convinced me," said his secretary, "except for one trifling detail. Whence do I, the man who has to buy meat and bread, get off?" The senator touched his nose with his finger and replied sagely: "Well, no legislation is 100 per cent. perfect."

A penitent boot-legger came to his parish priest for confession. Now the priest was conversant with the conventional sins and had ready-made phrases of absolution. But here was a new case, and one in which he feared to make a precedent. So he discreetly asked his visitor to wait a few minutes, and retiring to another room called up the archbishop. "Your Grace," he called, "there has developed here a situation calling for authoritative direction at your hands. There is a boot-legger waiting in my ante-room. How shall I deal with him?" Answer came promptly: "Don't pay him more than eight dollars a quart."

Edouard Belin, the inventor of photography by wire, said at a dinner in New York: "Of course, the transmission of photographs by wire was thought out before my time, but my predecessors, though their theories were alright, could not put them into practice. So nothing much came of their work, as an inventor's backers insist on a prompt delivery of the goods. An inventor can not treat his backers as Whistler, the painter treated his sitters. One of Whistler's sitters, you know, was in a great hurry to have her portrait painted. Finally she said: 'Now, Mr. Whistler, you've been at work on this portrait of mine for a very long time. When will it be finished and delivered?' 'Perhaps never,' replied Whistler, calmly."

Bishop, Brown said at a dinner in Richmond: "Bigotry and religious intolerance are vanishing from all the earth. It wasn't so when I was a child. When I was a child a little girl cousin came to visit us. On Sunday morning my mother set out with her for church. When they passed the Baptist church the little girl seemed troubled. 'Where did you say we were going?' she asked. 'We are going to worship,' said my mother, 'in the house of God.' Presently they turned into the Episcopal churchyard. 'But this is not a Baptist church,' said the little girl. 'No,' said my mother, 'it is an Episcopal church.' 'Oh,' said the little girl reproachfully, 'but everybody knows that God is a Baptist.'"

A sea captain, holding a glass of lime-juice approvingly up to the light, said: "Navies are different today from what they used to be. A man was talking to an old sailor. The sailor said: 'Yes, sir, my boss was in the navy, too.' 'In the navy, was he?' said the man. 'What was his official capacity, may I ask?' 'Four to five quarts, sir,' said the old sailor."

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

High finance. High society. A secret criminal society. Plots and defiance of plots. Battles in underworld dens. Romance which defies death threats. The triumph of right and a strong right arm are all shown in "Children of the Night."

Walter Long, well known as character actor, has a French Apache role in "White and Unmarried," the new Paramount picture starring Thomas Meighan. The genuine Apache has nothing on Long in so far as his make-up in the photoplay is concerned.

Will Rogers, Goldwyn's homely and human screen star, is featured in his latest photoplay, "An Unwilling Hero." It is the story of an American "tramp" who becomes a hero in spite of himself—but not enough of one to forego the open road. It was founded on a short story by O. Henry.

Gareth Hughes in Aeroplane An aeroplane fight will be one of the features of "Garments of Truth," a Metro production now in the making, with Gareth Hughes in the stellar role. All who witness the fight class it as a daring stunt.

Blonde and brunette! That's the title of an old love story of bygone days, but it fits "White and Unmarried" in which Thomas Meighan stars.

Two beautiful women—Jacqueline Logan and Grace Darmond—appear in the leading feminine roles. Miss Logan, a former beauty of the Follies, is dark. Miss Darmond, who has been leading woman for numberless stars, is blonde.

They are so diametrically opposite in type, complexion and stature that they make remarkable contrasts in the picture story.

Mr. Meighan has a role that fits him to perfection. He is a crook who inherits a fortune and then fraternizes with the lawless class he once preyed upon. In the end, of course, he comes out right and the love story winds up satisfactorily.

Writing for Viola Dana

Edith Kennedy will write the continuity for Viola Dana's forthcoming Metro picture, "The Fourteenth Lover." Until recently Miss Kennedy was a writer of original stories and continuities for Famous Players-Lasky. In private life Miss Kennedy is Mrs. Albert D. Jewett.

OF INTEREST TO MUSICIANS

Galileo Gasparri, Italian tenor, who toured America in 1912-1913, is at present in this country for a short visit. Signor Gasparri is the husband of Mme. Emma Calve. Their recent appearances in concert in England have been widely praised, especially in the tabloid presentation of opera which they have arranged for concert use.

A cable from Frieda Hempel announces her arrival in Paris. After a week in the French capital, the soprano was to go to Copenhagen to sing with the Tivoli Symphony June 15 and 17.

Charles Hackett, tenor, gave a concert at New Rochelle, N. Y., recently for the benefit of the disabled soldiers camp in Vermont. The concert realized the amount of $3200.

Representative Oscar E. Keller of Minnesota has introduced in the house of representatives a bill to repeal the admissions tax.

George L. Spaulding, composer and publisher of popular songs, died at his home on June 1, after an illness of about three weeks. Mr. Spaulding was born at Newburgh, N. Y., in 1864 and went to New York when about sixteen years of age, working as an errand-boy in a music store. He later engaged in business in Brooklyn under the firm name of Spaulding & Kornder.

In addition to its own series of three subscription concerts in Aeolian hall, the Letz quartet will give at least eleven other concerts in New York during the coming season. The organization has been engaged for five Sunday evening concerts in November, December, January, February and March under the auspices of the New York educational alliance. It will also give two series of three concerts each at Columbia university and the Brooklyn institute of arts and sciences. Other engagements already booked for next season are with the Matinee Musicale of Lincoln, Neb., for January 23, the Melody club of Norfolk, Va., for February 15, and with the Tuesday morning club of Springfield, Mass.

Andreas Dippel has been engaged by the city of Chicago to arrange the performances of what it is said will be the world's greatest chorus consisting of 10,000 voices, in connection with the Pageant of Progress exhibition to be held in August on the municipal pier.

POPULAR SCIENCE

Oil of batpita berries, a product of sandy coastal regions of several Brazilian states, is reported equal to the best olive oil, both as food and medicine. The wild shrubs, seven or eight feet high are mostly on public lands, averaging 100 to the acre though 400 can be grown under cultivation.

The so-called fatigue of metal has been ascribed to a change of crystalline structure under repeated stress, but that no evidence of such change has been found in an investigation of more than a year was reported by H. F. Moore in a late paper to the American institute of mining and metallurgical engineers. The crystals were broken under repeated stress. The explanation of Bauschinger, a German, is that some inherent property of the material, perhaps some property of the amorphous cement between the crystals, changes its elastic limit under the repeated reversals of
